Hiss Says He Knew Accuser Under A Different Name

Claims Chambers Was A Communist Called Crosely

Washington, Aug. 17.—(AP) Rep. Nixon (R-Calif.) said tonight that Alger Hiss has identified Whittaker Chambers, his accuser in the Congressional spy hearings, as a man he had known under a different name.

Nixon gave this information to a reporter by telephone from New York, where three members of the house un-American activities committee said they had brought Hiss and Chambers face to face for the first time for purposes of identification.

Nixon said Hiss testified that he had known Chambers, who has accused Hiss of being part of a prewar Communist underground in Washington, as a man named George Crosely.

Chambers testified here under oath that he used to be a Communist from 1924 to 1937, serving as a courier for the underground in Washington.

He named Hiss as one of the members of that underground. Denies Knowing Chambers

Also testifying here under oath, Hiss gave a directly contradictory statement. A former state department official who now heads the Carnegie foundation for international peace, Hiss said he had not known any man named Whittaker Chambers and denied he was or is a Communist.

"The impression given to the public," Nixon said, "was that he (Hiss) had never known this man at all. This identification today is a direct contrast with that impression."

Nixon said Hiss told the committee members today he had known Chambers under the name of Crosely during the period that Chambers claims to have known Hiss. Nixon said that Chambers maintained, however, that Hiss knew him under the Communist party name of Carl Chambers, Nixon said, could not recall having used the name of George Crosely.

The two men, Nixon said, were brought together at the Commodore hotel (Room 1400) today. To the entire purpose, he said, was to make sure there was no case of "mistaken identity" in advance of appearance in public hearings by Chambers and Hiss together.

Two Will Meet Next Week

The two will have been subpoenaed for public hearings already scheduled to be held here August 25.

"Both will be present, Nixon said, and the committee will question them in regard to their relationship."

Committee members with him in New York, Nixon said, were chairman J. Parnell Thomas (R-N.J.) and Rep. McDowell (R-Pa.). In addition, he said, the committee took along five of its investigative staff headed by chief investigator Robert E. Stripling.

Nixon began his report on the New York meeting with these words: "This is probably one of the big stories of some time."

The Hiss-Chambers contradictions in testimony have formed one of the most puzzling phases for the committee in its investigation of stories that Red espionage networks operated in Washington before and during the war.

Chambers, a star witness for the committee, had told of knowing and talking with Hiss—even asking him to break with the Communist party. Hiss had given inconsistent testimony that he never had been a Communist, had never been in a Communist front organization and had no friends he knows of who were Communists.

In Washington, the committee promised new spy disclosures even as a hot dispute exploded within the committee itself.

Arabs Say Jewish Forces Have Suffered In Attacks

Amman, trans-Jordan, Aug. 17.—(AP)—An official Trans-Jordan statement tonight said the Arab legion had thrown back a heavy Jewish attack on legion positions in southern Jerusalem and killed "several hundred" Jews.

The statement said the Jewish attack on the Deir Abu Tor sector, a key legion position, was "supported with tanks, armored cars and automatic weapons."

Shell Arab Positions

The Jews began by shelling Arab positions, the Trans-Jordan statement said, but the legion did not answer until the Jews advanced into the Arab lines. Then the legion opened fire and as the battle raged, pursued the retreating Jews and killed several hundred, the statement added. The report said the legion captured several armored cars a quantity of munitions and occupied the positions from which the Jews began the attack.

(A Jerusalem dispatch reported that a large-scale artillery duel between Jews and Arabs raged for five hours. Some shelling of civilian areas was reported and Arab shell-fire battered Jewish positions along the entire corridor which bisects the Holy City from north to south. The Israeli army made no statement as to the Jewish return of fire but Jewish artillery was audible throughout the battle, the dispatch said.)

Seize Government House

The fighting in the Deir Abu Tor sector followed a night in which Trans-Jordan officials claimed the Jews had seized a government house in Jerusalem, violating the international red cross flag which marked it as a refugee security zone. It was charged here the Jews had worn "United Nations" uniforms in the surprise attack on Arab irregulars' posts nearby.

(United Nations military observers wear the uniforms of their own countries.)

Later the Trans-Jordan government announced the government house had been repossessed by the International Red Cross and that all the Jews had withdrawn.

Clark Says Justice Department Never Approved Probe

Washington, Aug. 17.—(AP)—Attorney General Tom Clark said tonight the Justice Department had never given its approval to public hearings by a Senate committee on alleged espionage activities among government employees.

The attorney general made his statement in a continuation of a letter exchange with Senator Ferguson (R-Mich.), chairman of the subcommittee on expenditures in the executive department, which recently aired stories that government wartime secrets found their way to Soviet agents.

Clark recently suggested to Ferguson that such open testimony had possibly damaged Justice Department efforts to prosecute.

Ferguson said in a public speech in Michigan yesterday that his committee had taken up the question of open hearings with Clark's office early in June and "received word that it would not in any way interfere with their work."

A letter from Ferguson to Clark making the same assertion was delivered to the attorney general today.

In a stiffly worded reply, which Clark made public, the attorney general said:

"Before receiving your letter, I read in the press this morning a statement from you that you had cleared with my assistants as early as June 9, 1948, the public hearings that you have held with reference to espionage charges. This is incorrect."

Appoint Odegaard Council Director

New Haven, Conn., Aug. 17.—(AP)—The appointment of Charles E. Odegaard of the University of Illinois as director of the American Council of Learned Societies was announced here tonight.

The announcement came from Dean William C. DeVane of Yale, chairman of the council.

Odegaard, a World War II navy officer who is professor of history and assistant dean of the graduate school at Illinois, will succeed Dr. Cornelius Kruse of Wesleyan University as council director on Sept. 1. He will direct the organization's activities from its Washington, D. C., office.

Democrats To Rule State Fair Today

Springfield, Ill., Aug. 17.—(AP)—Democrats will gather at the Illinois State Fair tomorrow. They will hear Senator Alben Barkley of Kentucky defend the Truman administration and Paul H. Douglas call on farmers to help him unseat Republican Senator C. Wayland Brooks.

Adlai E. Stevenson, Democratic nominee for governor also will speak at the fair's Democratic day program starting at 10 a.m. (CST) in front of the grandstand. Speeches, including a half hour talk by Barkley, the nominee for vice-president, will start at 11:45 a.m. (CST).

Douglas is expected to outline his stand on farm questions and to assail Brooks' Senate voting record on agriculture.

Republicans take over the fairgrounds stump Thursday. Their nominee for vice-president, Gov. Earl Warren of California, will give the main speech. Other speakers will be Gov. Dwight H. Green and Senator Brooks, both seeking reelection.

Admission to the fairgrounds is free on both days.

Jute is India's leading export, averaging nearly one-fourth by value of the export trade.

Demos And GOP's Duel Over Record Of 80th Congress

Washington, Aug. 17.—(AP)—Democratic and Republican spokesmen dueling with adding machines today over the record of the 80th Congress.

House Republican Leader Halleck of Indiana claimed his party saved more than $6,000,000,000 in the year and a half that Republicans have held a majority in both houses. In the second session alone, Halleck said, they appropriated $2,741,481,291 less than President Truman requested in the regular departmental appropriation bills, deficiencies, supplements and so on.

Barkley Says Not

Not so, said Senator Barkley of Kentucky, minority leader in the Senate and President Truman's running mate on the Democratic ticket.

Barkley said the Republican controlled Congress appropriated and authorized federal expenditures amounting to half a billion dollars more than Mr. Truman's original 1948-49 fiscal budget.

Both Halleck and Barkley inserted their claims in tomorrow's session issue of the Congressional Directory. They were made public by each party's national committee.

Halleck said the Republican-claimed $6,000,000,000 of savings was achieved over "reckless and sometimes demagogic resistance."

"And," he added, "this does not include the rejection of the president's $20,000,000,000 high living, vote-buying political recommendations."

Congress Hindered Spending

Barkley contended that Congress actually pared the administration's spending requests during the second and the extra sessions of the 80th Congress by $1,309,000,000. More than offsetting this, he said, supplemental appropriations and authorizations amounting to an additional $1,821,000,000 will be required before June 30.

The Republican leader noted that in that brief session Congress authorized an increase in bank reserves, and power to limit installment credit. Halleck also praised the Republican-sponsored housing legislation and predicted that 1,000,000 dwelling units will be completed this year "in the biggest building boom of all time."

Halleck gave his party full credit for exposing Communist spy rings "running through the Truman administration like water through a sieve." He said the people are "amazed" that the president "has refused to cooperate with the Republican Congress in exposing these alien-minded forces that seek to destroy our republic."

Union President Says ITU Must Win Chicago Strike

Milwaukee, Aug. 17.—(AP)—John Pich, president of the Chicago local of the International Typographical Union, told the ITU's 90th convention here today the local must win its strike against five Chicago newspapers or "we will not have a union."

Pich said Chicago Local 16 has done everything "humanly possible" to settle the strike, but negotiations are still at a standstill. The strike began nearly nine months ago but the five newspapers are still publishing.

Pich said the Taft-Hartley law, restrained and restricted the local from putting pressure on the struck plants. "But the pressures still are on us and we must win or we will not have a union," he said.

Truman Scheduled For Six Speeches On Labor Day

Washington, Aug. 17.—(AP)—President Truman will make six campaign speeches in Michigan on Labor Day topped by a 20 minute address in Detroit's Cadillac Square.

The president's other speeches will be at Hamtramck, Pontiac, Flint, Grand Rapids, and Lansing. The White House announced today a schedule calling for the president's speech at Detroit at 12:30 p.m. (CDT).

The president will leave Washington by Pennsylvania railroad late Sunday afternoon September 5.

Identify Weapons As Those Stolen From Indiana Plant

Belleville, Ill., Aug. 17.—(AP)—A shotgun and revolver found in the possession of two men held here on burglary and larceny charges have been identified as those taken in an Aug. 3 burglary of the McCracken Mercantile Co. of Montgomery, Ind., Deputy Sheriff Fred Eskels said today.

The two men are Earnest Smallwood, 23-year-old half breed Apache Indian who has been living near O'Fallon, Ill., and Fred Miller of St. Louis.

Deputies Ewald Dittman and Frank Sauer of the St. Clair county sheriff's office said Smallwood had signed a written statement admitting six burglaries and that he implicated Miller. Eskels said Miller admitted participating in one of the burglaries but that he refused to talk about others mentioned in Smallwood's statement.

Six IHC Plants Halt Production

Chicago, Aug. 17.—(AP)—Production at six International Harvester Company plants was halted today by a strike of 18,000 CIO unionists.

The United Auto Workers union called members out at seven branches. Members went out at Melrose Park, Ill., Evansville, Ind., Memphis, Tenn., Springfield, Ohio, and at two plants in Indianapolis.

But the factory at Ft. Wayne, Ind., continued operations with between 5,500 and 6,000 workers on the job.

The strike was called early today after representatives of both sides had talked about a new contract far into the night. The old contract expired at midnight Monday.

A meeting of company and union negotiators has been tentatively set for 2 p.m. tomorrow in Chicago.

The union received an 11 cent hourly increase June 23.

The points at issue now concern grievances, apprenticeship and arbitration procedures.

U. S. Army Stages Maneuvers Near Russ Blockaded Berlin

Berlin, Wednesday, Aug. 18.—(AP)—U. S. Army infantry engaged in maneuvers early today in the Grunewald forest of Soviet-blockaded Berlin.

The duty officer of the third battalion, 16th Infantry regiment, said the maneuvers will continue throughout the hours of darkness. Four companies are taking part.

The forest runs through the American and British sectors of the city. The maneuvers stirred considerable excitement among the Germans. Several called the Associated Press Bureau here to ask what helmeted troops and armored cars were doing in the forest.

Join With French Troops

Earlier other American troops joined with French units in maneuvers along the Rhine river near Heidelberg. It was the first time since the end of the war that the two western allies had engaged in experimental war games. Although only 1,500 troops participated, U. S. and French officers termed the show "successful" and predicted other joint efforts in the future.

The U. S. air force demonstrated to the Russians yesterday that it can expand the blockade-busting airlift to Berlin to far greater limits.

GOP Manager Says Midwest Will Swing Election

Chicago, Aug. 17.—(AP)—A. T. Bert Howard, midwest GOP campaign manager, declared today the "battle-ground of the next election is definitely in the midwest."

Howard made his statement after a closed meeting of Republican chairmen from 20 midwest and western states.

While the meeting was planned to discuss campaign strategy in the area, Howard declined to issue a progress report.

"We won't announce any regional campaign plans until Herbert Brownell, Jr., national GOP committee director, outlines the party's national strategy plans," Howard said.

Howard reiterated that all but three of the 20 states represented "definitely will be in the Dewey-Warren column in the November election." He declined to reveal the three states. He said that the Republicans would "have to work hard in six more trouble spot states," but he also declined to reveal these states.

Howard, from Scottsbluff, Neb., said that of the 18 Republican senators up for election this year 10 are from the midwest.

"There are nine trouble spots in the 18 senatorial elections," he said, "and six of those are in the midwest."

"The Democrats hold seven seats which we have a chance to take," he added, "and three of these are in the midwest."

He declined to reveal the states, pleading for "more time to look the situation over."

Rescue 3 Thrown From Boat In Lake Michigan

Chicago, Aug. 17.—(AP)—A squall tipped an 18-foot sailboat and pitched a young woman, her father and another man into Lake Michigan today off Montrose Harbor.

Those rescued by the owner of a cabin cruiser are Miss Lucille Brodie, 26, Chicago, secretary of Lions International; her father, Stephen, 54, an accountant, and Jack Gilliland, 42, of 9238 Phillips street, Detroit, past district governor of Lions International.

Miss Brodie, a sailing devotee, said the party left the harbor about 10 a.m. and was about a quarter mile out in the lake when a rainstorm swept in. As they headed for the harbor, the squall struck and tipped the boat.

Fred Jerse, 40, owner of a cabin cruiser, saw their plight from shore and rescued them. They were floating on the surface in life jackets.

Washington, Aug. 17.—(AP)—President Truman stepped into the east coast maritime labor dispute late today with appointment of a three-member fact finding board.

The President named Saul Wallen of Boston, former chairman of the Regional National War Labor board as chairman. Joseph Miller, Washington, D.C., labor consultant, and Julius Cass, attorney of 11 Broadway, New York, were named to serve with him.

Lies In State At Yankee Ball Park, Site Of Triumphs

New York, Aug. 17.—(AP) The American public paid tribute tonight to Babe Ruth as he lay in the rotunda of Yankee Stadium.

Filing past the bier of baseball's great home run king, dead of cancer after a long illness, were thousands of persons—young and old.

Some passed the mahogany casket slowly, without a stop; others halted. And some paused briefly to kneel and pray.

There were tears in the eyes of many as they looked for the last time on the man who more than any other, symbolized baseball to millions of fans.

2,000 Persons Each Hour

Each hour an estimated 2,000 persons passed the casket, there in the park that was the scene of so many of his triumphs.

After an hour the velvet-carpeted prayer bench was removed from in front of the casket so the line could move more rapidly.

Before the Stadium gates were opened to the public, Mrs. Claire Ruth, dressed in black, came to the casket of her husband.

She was accompanied by other members of the Ruth family. They included an adopted daughter, Mrs. Dorothy Flanders, and Ruth's sister, Mrs. Wilbur Moberly of Baltimore.

Subway trains stopping at the stadium unloaded hundreds of persons who made their way to the rapidly-growing line outside the park.

Bronx borough President James J. Lyons said, as he left the stadium, that he would propose to New York City's board of estimate that the section of 161st Street, bordering the ball park from River avenue to Ruppert Place, be named Babe Ruth Plaza.

Many Old Friends

Among those at the stadium in the first hour was Actor James Barton, who recalled that he knew Ruth when the Yankee star was at St. Mary's school in Baltimore. Young Ruth then was a bugler at the school, the actor said.

It was Barton who had introduced Mrs. Ruth, the former Claire Hodson, an actress, to the Babe.

Passing by Ruth's body in a group were 50 vendors employed at the stadium.

Floral tributes from baseball figures started to arrive early in the evening and were placed near the casket which lay against a backdrop of potted palms.

A police guard of honor was detailed to keep an all-night vigil at Ruth's casket.

Ruth's body had been brought to the stadium late in the afternoon in a black and gray hearse.

Crowds Line Up

Already there were hundreds of Ruth's admirers, who watched silently as the casket was lifted from the hearse and placed in the rotunda.

Ruth had come home to Yankee Stadium, there to rest until tomorrow night while thousands visited the bier for a final tribute to their idol.

The body of Ruth, who died in New York City's Memorial Center for Cancer and Allied Diseases after an illness of nearly two years, was borne into the rotunda by eight pallbearers.

The doors to the great stadium then were closed—and the crowd outside formed a line, waiting to be admitted for the walk past the casket.

A POPULAR ARMY OFFICER RETIRES

Those were not crocodile tears that the Japanese, and the men of the Eighth Army, shed when Lieut. Gen. Robert L. Eichelberger boarded a transport at Yokohama and set out for home and retirement after almost three years as head of the Armed Occupation Forces in the Japanese home islands. No matter how well his successor may operate, he won't do things exactly as General Eichelberger did. Both the Japanese and his own men will miss him greatly.

General Eichelberger proved in New Guinea and the Philippines that he was a first-class soldier. In Japan he proved that he was a first-class administrator and diplomat as well. There were the seeds in the Occupation for almost anything to happen. That nothing much did, that there were few incidents, can be credited in a large measure to the wisdom with which he handled his own men and treated the Japanese. General Eichelberger had much more direct contact with the Japanese than did General MacArthur, and it is as fine a tribute as could be given to say that undoubtedly the Japanese feel toward him both admiration and gratitude. It is doubtful if that could be said of many heads of conquering and occupying armies.

With his own troops General Eichelberger was as firm but patient as he was with the Japanese. There was no question as to who was boss, but anyone with a legitimate gripe knew he would get a fair hearing. In other words, he treated them as men and as equals. He had a job to do; they had a job to do. He did his job; he expected them to do their job. They responded to that kind of treatment. His attitude permeated the whole Eighth Army.

Last, but not least, the newspaper men will miss him. His door was always open to them. Information they sought was always available. He might argue about its value but there was no question of trying to cover up. They said the Eighth was the only army in the world with "a Three-Star PRO." That would be General "Bob," Public Relations Officer in the best sense of the word.

The body was sent to a Highland Park funeral home. Funeral services will be tomorrow. The Stein home is in Waukegan.

Never Underestimate A Woman

Boyle's Column

She's Pretty Now, But How Will She Look In 25 Years?

By Arthur Edson
(For Hal Boyle)

Washington, Aug. 18.—(P)—What this country needs is an automobile that will grow old usefully.

Look at these sleek, fat bottomed cars coming out now and you'll see what I mean.
The cars of tomorrow, eh? Well, how will they look the day after tomorrow? How will they look—and act—15, 20 or 25 years from today? I think I know the answers to these questions, for I have just completed a three-week vacation in my native Ozarks. Now that I have my shoes back on, I can carry this message to the carmakers of America: Ozarks Displeased.

Gentlemen, the Ozarks are not pleased.
My authority for this statement is Bert Rush of Cherryvale, Kan. You will understand why he is an authority when I tell you what he did for a living.

He sold hand washing machines. Hand washing machines? "Sure," said Rush. "You know the kind you swish back and forth by hand. The wringer is worked by hand, too. I had the whole state of Arkansas for my territory. At one time I had 50 salesmen working for me. A mighty fine business, too."

Rush sold out when he saw the handwriting on the wall. He couldn't help but see it. It was in electric lights.
Ruined His Best Areas
"The Rural Electrification Administration moved in on me," Bert said. "Soon as a farmer gets electricity he begins to wonder about an electric washing machine. It ruined some of my best areas."

Obviously anyone who sells hand washing machines knows a thing or two about what happens to old cars. He hits places where anything more recent than 1934 is considered putting on airs.

"These new cars," scoffed Rush, "are strictly highway jobs. 'What can they do on an Ozark road?'"

That's a good question, but a hard one to answer. A lot of other sections of the country that are off the beaten paths must be asking the same question, too.

For the old-fashioned car was a girl who didn't mind showing her knees, or more so. She could wade water almost up to her middle, and she thought nothing of straddling stumps and rocks.

Too Low and Wide
But these cars of today with their highfallutin' airs! They're so wide they'd hang up on the sides of many a country road. They're so low they'd scrape bottom on a rock no bigger than a milk crock.

Okay. Their speedometers hint they can do 100 or better. But how will they do in gumbo mud?

Can you jack up the back, slip on a fly wheel, and saw wood? How are they at running down heifers over plowed ground?

Can you carry a sack of chicken feed on each of the front fenders? Frankly, carmakers of America, the folks down in the Ozarks think the answer to these questions is no. And that's why they're worried. Mighty, mighty worried.

Four Independent Parties File For November Election

Springfield, Ill., Aug. 17.—(P)—Four independent parties have filed tickets for the Nov. 2 Illinois general election.

Their candidates' names will go on the ballot—along with the Republicans and Democrats—unless the state electoral board finds the petitions are not valid.

The four minor parties are the Progressives headed by Henry A. Wallace for president; the Prohibition, the Socialist and the Socialist-Labor. The Socialists entered only for president and vice president but the other three parties filed complete state slates in addition.

The two major parties nominated their state candidates in the primary. Minor parties are required to obtain a minimum of 25,000 signatures. Including 200 or more from at least 50 counties.

The Prohibition party, which was the last to file before the deadline passed yesterday, entered Claude W. Watson of Los Angeles for president, and Dale H. Lern of East Stroudsburg, Pa., for vice president.

Miss Estella Bedford Weds William Nunes

Afternoon Rites Held At Church In California

Ascension Episcopal church in Vallejo, Calif., was the scene of the marriage of Miss Estella Bedford, daughter of Mrs. Viva Voorhees of Vallejo, and William G. Nunes, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest G. Nunes, 1212 Hackett street.

The marriage vows were recited in a lovely ceremony performed at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon, July 3, by Dr. Douglas B. Northrup.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her brother, John J. Newman, was attired in a gown of white marquisette, trimmed with inserts of Brussels lace. The same lace fashioned the ruffled halo from which fell the fingertip-veil of French illusion. She carried a Rainbow Bible, with streamers of Stephanotis.

MR. AND MRS. WILLIAM NUNES

The maid of honor was Miss Laila Daley, Miss Patricia Wilson, cousin of the bride, was the bridesmaid. The gowns worn by the bride and bridesmaid were of yellow and aqua dotted Swiss respectively. Each wore a crown of Shasta daisies and carried a matching bouquet.

George Elkins was the best man, while the guests were seated by William MacKever and Luther Avery.

A navy blue dress with pink accessories was worn by the bride's mother. The bridegroom's mother chose a dress of black faille, with white accessories. Both had orchid corsages.

Following the wedding a reception was given at the Officers club on Mare Island by the bride's uncle and aunt, Lt. Comdr. and Mrs. C. L. Bridges.

The couple then left on a wedding trip. For traveling the bride chose navy faille with which she wore pink accessories. Upon returning the couple will make their home in Vallejo.

Mrs. Nunes is a graduate of the Vallejo High school. Her husband was graduated from Jacksonville High school and served in the U.S. Navy for two years.

Strangers Make Possible Soldier's Reunion With Wife

San Francisco, Aug. 17.—(P)—Warm-hearted strangers helped write a happy ending today to the case of the corporal and his hitchhiking young wife.

They chipped in at the last minute to put Cpl. Tony Furio on his plane last night. He's headed for Maine to see his 25-year-old wife Marjorie, an expectant mother, who set out last Friday to hitchhike here with their son Tony, 22 months.

Mrs. Furio got as far as Old Orchard, Me., 250 miles from her starting point. Furio reached her by phone, told her to stay put, wangled a five-day pass, and showed up at an airline that had offered him a free ride.

But someone found out the law allows no free passengers. He didn't have enough for a ticket. The airport manager, a secretary, an airline agent, a cab driver, and a restaurant owner all chipped in; the cabbie threw in a free ride to the airport.

Furio made his plane with only a few minutes to spare.

Investigate Mystery Fires On Macomb Farm

Macomb, Ill., Aug. 17.—(P)—The State Fire Marshall's office today was investigating mysterious outbreaks of fires that have destroyed a house and barn on the Charles Willey farm, 12 miles south of here.

For a week before the farmhouse was destroyed Saturday night, Willey reported, between 100 and 200 small fires broke out and were extinguished by himself and family or with the help of neighbors.

As they grew more serious and more frequent he moved his family from the house to the garage. The barn burned down yesterday.

Willey is unable to explain the fires or suggest a possible cause. He says he has no enemies and that the insurance carried on the buildings was far below their present replacement value.

Neighbors who have helped fight the fires said they appeared to start in the wallpaper. They would begin by scorching the wallpaper which finally would burst into flame. When the wallpaper was torn off, the fires broke out in the plaster laths.

One neighbor said he removed a window curtain and laid it over the head of a bed. While he was in the house, he said, the curtain burst into flame.

Soviet Consul Says U. S. Also To Blame For Woman's Leap

New York, Aug. 17.—(P)—Soviet Consul General Yakov M. Lomakin says the Russian woman school teacher who leaped from a third floor window of the Soviet consulate last week was attempting suicide "in her despair" after a nervous breakdown.

Lomakin blames "White Russians" and American officials for the leap. The consul general charged at a news conference last night that anti-Communist White Russians had kidnapped and dragged the teacher, Mrs. Oksana Stepanovna Kosenkina, several days before she jumped.

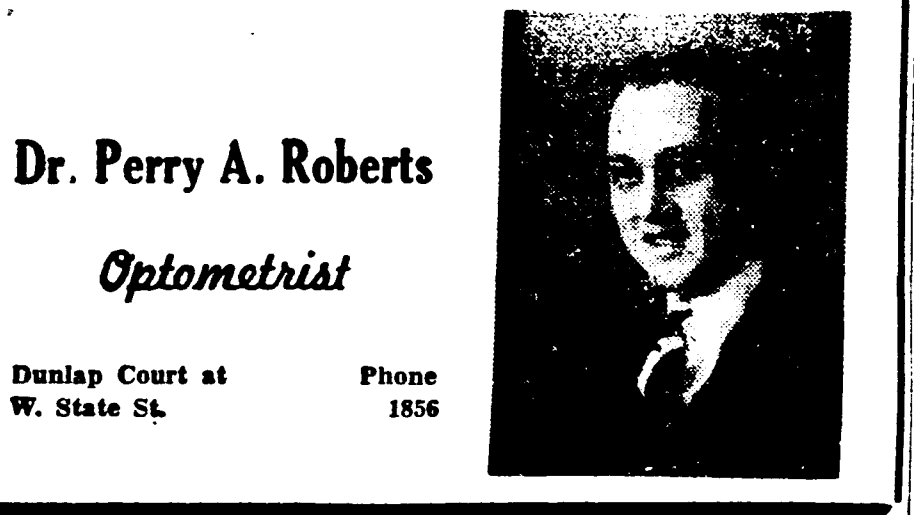

Lomakin said responsibility for her leap last Thursday lay also with American officials, whom he accused of actions and statements leading her to "nervous breakdown."

73 Sign Up For Trip; Many More To Come

During the first day of registration for "Jacksonville Day" at Sportsman park in St. Louis, 73 boys and girls signed up. Tuesday morning they were still flocking in. However, car owners lagged a little. At the same hour, there were only enough cars to take 46 children.

Early reports Tuesday indicate that the children of Jacksonville are enthusiastic about the prospect of a free major league baseball game. Walter DeShara, who is handling the registration at the Journal Courier office, said he thinks that the estimated 500 children will probably be surpassed.

The only qualifications for the children is that they be between the ages of 12 and 16 and that they be from the Jacksonville area, Junior Chamber of Commerce chairman John Bellatti said.

The Journal Courier office will sign up the children every day from 9 a. m. to 4 p. m. through Friday, August 20. Car owners may either call their cars into the office or sign up personally at the Journal Courier.

Walter DeShara will give out tickets which will admit them to the Cardinals-Giants game on August 26.

The Jacksonville group will load at the Academy lot at 9:30 a. m. August 26. The game begins at 1:30 p. m.

Cattle On Feed In State Number Same As Year Ago

Springfield, Ill., Aug. 17.—(P)—Cattle on feed in Illinois Aug. 1 numbered about the same as a year ago at 45 per cent under 1931-40 levels, the State Federal Agriculture Department reported today.

Since 1928, herds were smaller only on Aug. 1, 1946, when feed lots were left unusually empty by heavy marketings that followed lifting of price controls the preceding June 30. Sixty per cent of cattle on grain feed had been fed more than four months. This compares with the usual 71 per cent.

The apartments said feed grain prices generally were excellent except in northern and northeastern counties where they ranged from fair to a little above average. The outlook was brightened by forecasts of bumper corn and oats crops.

Savage Family Home From Trip

Ernest C. Savage was back at his duties Tuesday at the Jacksonville Engraving Company plant after a three weeks' vacation which he and his family spent touring northwestern and Pacific coast states. The family covered 7,000 miles, going west by the way of the Black Hills, Yellowstone, and on to California.

Mr. and Mrs. Savage and their daughters, Ellender and Sheryl, were accompanied by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Shippe of Quincy.

They visited Mrs. Savage's brother, M. E. Shippe and family at El Cajon, Calif., near Los Angeles, and also with Mr. and Mrs. Len Barcom, former residents of Jacksonville. Mr. Barcom was at one time manager of Kinney's shoe store in this city. He now owns and operates the South Seas cafe on U. S. Route 101 in San Diego.

The Savage family made a trip into Mexico from San Diego.

Sniping Disturbs Palestine Truce

The Palestine truce is an uneasy one, with UN observers reporting that both Israelis and Arabs are guilty of sniping attacks. The witnesses were Oscar Gilpin, who discovered the body, and Thomas DeFreitas.

Joy Goodrick was foreman of the jury, other members being Ruth Goodrick, Rose King, Edward Goodey, Waldon B. Brown and James A. Guyette.

Mrs. Elwood Strowmatt was the inquest stenographer.

Funeral services for Mr. Goodall will be held Wednesday at 2:30 p. m. (daylight time) at the Williamson Funeral Home. The remains are now at the family residence.

Belleville Names New Police Chief

Belleville, Ill., Aug. 17.—(P)—The city council last night named Victor F. Knefelkamp chief of police to succeed Fred G. Saeger, who shot and killed himself July 12.

Knefelkamp is 65 years old and has been with the police department for 19 years. He was one of three applicants for the post. He was in the parking meter division, making $195 a month. As chief he will get $245.

An investigation into Saeger's death is continuing. A son has told an investigating group his father was worried by pressure from east side gambling interests.

Dispatches said Italian Alpine forces hoped to bring out the other seven or eight bodies—accounts differed as to whether the plane carried 22 or 23 persons—today or tomorrow.

Chicago Designer Creates Fur Coat To Wear 3 Ways

Chicago, Aug. 17.—(P)—By adding, subtracting and zipping a zipper, Sam Stein has turned a fur coat into three wraps which can be worn months of the year.

Stein, a Chicago furrier, sees his design as an answer to the husband whose budget winces when the wife wants a new coat each season.

The coat, termed "the three season fur ensemble," consists first of a fur coat. When the weather turns warmer, off comes the skirt—leaving a versatile jacket.

For the in-between season, Stein adds a colored wool skirt trimmed with fur. This zips onto the jacket and creates the third ensemble.

Stein said "I'm working on the knowledge that a fur coat never wears out. It is discarded or remodeled because the woman is tired of wearing it year after year. This way she won't get tired as soon."

Parachute Drops Huge Life Boat in Test

The largest parachute ever used by the Air Force drops in the water off New York, after it dropped a huge life boat near some "survivors" in the Air Force's "Operation Splash." The life boat, in the rear, is the most completely equipped craft ever devised for air-sea rescue work. The "survivors" from the small raft board the air-borne rescue vessel during the special tests.

Four Men Appointed On Draft Board To Serve Entire County

Colonel Paul Armstrong, Illinois selective service director, has announced the appointment of the Morgan county draft board. The members appointed are Estelle Neff, Carl E. Newport, and Glen Hickie of Jacksonville, and C. P. Hedrick of Meredosia.

The board will serve for both Jacksonville and Morgan county. During World War II, two draft boards were appointed to do this work.

Ashland Couple Wed At Lincoln

Ashland—Mrs. Eileen Wilkey of this city, daughter of Mrs. Paul For-gash of Van Nuys, Calif., and Del-mar Mathy, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Mathy of this city, were married Monday, August 9, by Vincent Jones, Justice of the Peace, in Lincoln, Ill.

After a trip to the Ozarks, the couple will be at home in this city where Mr. Mathy is employed at Jake Finn's tavern and Mrs. Mathy formerly was employed at the Lewis hotel in this city.

Mrs. Allie Smith attended the funeral services and burial of her nephew, Wilbur Baldwin at Alton on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Leo Adams and son Larry of Springfield, and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Vlands and daughter Mildred have returned from a week's visit at the Ozarks.

Mr. and Mrs. Silas DeGroot and son and Mr. and Mrs. Homer Pettit and son who have been vacationing in Georgia and Tennessee with relatives and friends have returned to their respective homes.

The board has not yet met, but will hold a meeting in the near future, according to Estelle Neff. No officers have been named, but Mr. Neff said that a chairman and a secretary will be elected at that meeting.

To Begin Registration
State selective service headquarters must be notified of the organization of the local board by August 25. Registration will probably begin about five days following that notification, that is, on September 1.

Mr. Neff stated that until the board has permanent quarters it will use the offices of the Illinois Veterans' commission located in the Morrison building on West State street.

Until further instructions from state headquarters there will be no announcement as to the place or time of registration. All men between the ages of 18 and 25 must register in this peacetime draft. This includes veterans even though most of them will be exempt by the provisions of the draft law.

RALLIES IN WHEAT MILD AS PRICES DRIFT LOWER

Chicago, Aug. 17.—(P)—Prices were inclined to drift lower in today's board of trade session. Occasional rallies in wheat were mild, induced by some mill and commercial buying.

Short covering in the nearby corn contract lifted that delivery from time to time, but the general tone was heavy. Corn bookings were placed at 80,000 bushels. Oats followed the lead of corn, but was stubborn on declines.

Receipts were: wheat 60 cars, corn 104, oats 24, and soybeans 1.

At the finish wheat was 1 to 1 1/2 lower than yesterday's finish. September $2.22. Corn was 1/2 to 2 cents lower, September $1.65-1.65. Oats were 1/2 to 1 lower, September 73-1. Soybeans were 2 to 3 cents lower, November $2.58. Rye was 1 1/2 to 2 lower, December $1.74.

The name of the city of Walla Walla, Wash., is a Nez Perce Indian term meaning "many waters," according to Encyclopedia Britannica.

First recorded instance of a photograph being taken from an airplane was at Cencelli, Italy. Orville Wright snapped the picture.

She's Playing Nurse for Keeps

Macomb Dodgers Win Sectional Softball Title Tuesday

Defeat Myers Bros. In 5-2 Finale Here; Advance To State

Games Tonight
7:15—Pepsi Cola vs. New Method book bindery—A league game.
9:00—Jacksonville Jay Cee girls vs. Madison Furniture girls.

The Macomb Dodgers beat the Myers Bros. in a thrilling 5-2 finale here Tuesday night to win the sectional softball title and advance to the state tournament at Decatur next week.

After spotting the Jacksonville team two runs in the first inning, the Dodgers came back to take a 5-2 decision in an action-packed engagement. The game was close and exciting all the way, two of the winners' runs being counted in the final inning.

Large Turnout
A large crowd turned out for the final combat of the three-game series between the two clubs. After losing to Myers Bros. in the opener last Wednesday, the Macomb team took two straight triumphs for the sectional title.

Macomb will tangle with the Decatur host city team, probably the Decatur Moose, in an opening round game of the state meet at Decatur's new Moose park Sunday night at 3:30 p.m. (standard time).

Larry Horn completed a sensational playoff exhibition with another three-hit performance Tuesday. The three-hitter made a total of only six blows he allowed Myers Bros. in the three tilts he pitched. He opened with a no-hitter, but lost on errors, then came back with two three-hit victories.

Horn had a new mound opponent Tuesday. Charlie Wyatt took over hill duties for the host city nine. Although he yielded 10 safeties, he kept them pretty well scattered and received credit for a good job.

Two Exceptional Catches
Both teams again made good showings in the field. Macomb had three errors, but a couple of bad bounces had as much to do with them as anything. Myers Bros. was charged with two miscues.

On the credit side of the Myers Bros. ledger were two sensational catches which brought the crowd to their feet. The first came in the fourth inning when shortstop Paul Stroud leaped into the air to snag a whistling line drive off the bat of Herbert Macomb first sacker. The second was in the seventh, when Stan Fernandes went back on a dead run and made a beautiful one-handed catch against the left field wall.

There were other good plays, but those two catches overshadowed all other defensive work.

Score Early
Myers Bros. wasted little time in opening up its big guns. The host team scored twice in the first. Paul Stroud walked to open the game. An error by the catcher, who kicked Clark's bunt down the first base line, moved Stroud to third and allowed Clark to reach first safely.

Stroud scored on a close play at the plate after Yates had filed out to the center fielder in short left center field. Harmon's booming double off the center field fence scored Clark, but Fernandes went down swinging to end the frame.

Macomb got one run back in the second. With one out Herbert singled to left field. He moved to third on Knowles single and scored on an infield out.

Move Out In Front
The visitors moved ahead in the fifth. Fuls opened with a single through the pitcher's box to center field. Horn was hit on the left arm by a pitched ball. Wally Reed was safe at first on a fielder's choice, in which Horn was forced at second.

An error by the Myers Bros. third baseman allowed Fuls to count and moved Reed to second. After the second out, Jack Kraushaar singled. Reed scored, but McNay was caught at third to end the frame.

The last two Macomb runs came on doubles by Reed and Hayes and Herbert's single.

CHICAGO LIVESTOCK MARKET REPORT

Chicago, Aug. 17.—(P)—Livestock prices were mostly steady today. Some hogs were 25 cents lower and some bulls weak, however.

A load of high-choice hogs reached $30.75 but the practical top price was $30.50 sparingly paid, and most good and choice butchers sold from $28.50 to $30.25. Heavier above 300 pounds were in scanty supply. Sows fetched $23.00 to $28.50.

Choice fed steers topped at $41.25 and heifers at $39.00. Other steers ranged downward to $34.00 for good grades. Bulls topped at $24.50 and vealers at $32.00.

Washington State spring lambs and native springers brought $28.00 for good and choice. Choice ewes topped at $12.50 in the slaughter variety. Breeding ewes grading good and choice and mixed in age from two to four years sold at $13.00.

Total receipts included 10,000 hogs, 5,700 cattle, 600 calves, and 3,500 sheep.

New York Stock Market

New York, Aug. 17.—(P)—The stock market made its best showing in around two weeks today.

Gains running from fractions to 2 points on so were liberally scattered through the list.

Activists ran well ahead of some recent slow sessions but was still nothing to shout about. Turnover for the full day was at the rate of about 700,000 shares, which would compare with the four-year low of 460,000 touched yesterday.

Brokerage quarters had a simple explanation for the rally. The market, they claim, has reached a sold-out condition. The low tempo of trading is a strong indication, in this view, that selling of any importance has run its course. The market, therefore, is in a position to respond easily to only light demand.

Higher were U. S. Steel, Youngs-town Sheet, General Motors, Chrysler, Goodrich, Montgomery Ward, General Electric, Illinois Central and Nickel Plate.

Some quarters in Wall Street noted more of a tendency for professional traders to get back in the market despite the absence of a decisive incentive. This change in the trend of thinking downtown was based in part on the theory that negotiations between east and west over Berlin had dragged on for weeks, still with no very tangible results.

At the same time, there was considerable talk in the financial district that the Berlin situation was approaching a climax.

Schmitz Hurls Cubs To 4-2 Win Over Cards

Chicago, Aug. 17.—(P)—Johnny Schmitz, willowy southpaw, mesmerized the St. Louis Cardinals once again here today with his assortment of curve balls as he hurled the Chicago Cubs to a 4-2 victory and a split of the two-game series.

Schmitz scattered five hits for his 13th victory against 10 losses. Only two tallies off him came via homers. Stan Musial hit his No. 30 to go into a tie for league leadership with Ralph Kiner, pending tonight's game, and Don Lang hammered out his third of the season.

George "Red" Mungler, who had staged somewhat of a comeback recently, was kayoed in the fourth by the Cubs. Willness was his undoing as much as anything else. He walked five and struck one batsman. Three of the walks and the hit batsman came in the second for a run without a hit.

Musial's homer tied it in the fourth and the Cubs came back with a pair in their half. Singles by Phil Cavarretta and Clarence Madderan and a walk to Bill Nicholson filled the bases with none out. Bob Scheffing's fly counted one and Schmitz singled across the other.

Gerry Staley stopped that uprising and was nicked for a run himself in the seventh. Lang had homered in the first half of the round and then the Cubs bounced back with one on singles by Emil Verban, "Peanuts" Lowrey and Cavarretta.

The Cubs retained an 8-6 edge over the Cardinals for the season with today's win.

Champ Tourney Makes Big Splash In Fight Business

New York, Aug. 17.—(P)—For an outfit that has promoted just one show, the Tournament of Champions is making a big splash in the boxing business.

Many figures close to the ways of that peculiar industry, believe the splash is going to drench the "seven angels" in red ink.

But the seven businessmen who back the T. of C. refuse to be perturbed. Since they moved into the cauliflower competition two months ago with their Rocky Graziano-Tony Zale middleweight title bout, they have gained control of the 160-pound crown and a good hold on the light heavyweight title.

Only yesterday they shoved a big foot in the door of the heavyweight division by signing Jersey Joe Walcott and Gus Lesnevich to fight on the Zale-Marcel Cerdan card in Jersey City Sept. 21.

And today they made another move to tighten their grip on the 175-pounders by resuming negotiations with England's Freddie Mills.

Mills, the light heavy king who took the crown from Lesnevich in London last month, was supposed to meet Gus again in the Jersey City show. He was forced to back out because of illness and take treatments.

Today Andy Niederreiter, who does the heavy end of the work for the "angels," said Ted Broadbribb, manager of Mills, cabled him from London saying "Mills' treatments very satisfactory. Probably start training in October. Will know better in a few weeks."

Mills is contracted to give Lesnevich a return bout under the auspices of the Tournament of Champions. Niederreiter had cabled Broadbribb asking him when Mills would be able to fulfill the agreement.

With Mills, Walcott, and Lesnevich, the T. of C. has a hold on three of the four big boys rated as top contenders for Joe Louis' crown. Ezzard Charles of Cincinnati is the other.

Should Louis carry out his announced plans to retire, the T. of C. will have an important say as to who the next heavyweight king will be.

Macomb Dodgers Win Sectional Softball Title Tuesday

Defeat Myers Bros. In 5-2 Finale Here; Advance To State

The Macomb Dodgers beat the Myers Bros. in the sectional softball title game Tuesday night to advance into the Amateur Softball Association's state tournament at Decatur next week.

After spotting the Jacksonville team two runs in the first inning, the Dodgers came back to take a 5-2 decision in an action-packed engagement. The game was close and exciting all the way, two of the winners' runs being counted in the final inning.

Large Turnout
A large crowd turned out for the final combat of the three-game series between the two clubs. After losing to Myers Bros. in the opener last Wednesday, the Macomb team took two straight triumphs for the sectional title.

Macomb will tangle with the Decatur host city team, probably the Decatur Moose, in an opening round game of the state meet at Decatur's new Moose park Sunday night at 8:30 p.m. (standard time).

Larry Horn completed a sensational playoff exhibition with another three-hit performance Tuesday. The three-hitter made a total of only six blows he allowed Myers Bros. in the three tilts he pitched. He opened with a no-hitter, but lost on errors, then came back with two three-hit victories.

Horn had a new mound opponent Tuesday. Charlie Wyatt took over hill duties for the host city nine. Although he yielded 10 safeties, he kept them pretty well scattered and received credit for a good job.

Two Exceptional Catches
Both teams again made good showings in the field. Macomb had three errors, but a couple of dead bounces had as much to do with them as anything. Myers Bros. was charged with two miscues.

On the credit side of the Myers Bros. ledger were two sensational catches which brought the crowd to their feet. The first came in the fourth inning when shortstop Paul Trowl leaped into the air to snag a whistling line drive off the bat of Herbert, Macomb first sacker. The second was in the seventh, when Stan Fernandez went back on a dead run and made a beautiful one-handed catch against the left field wall.

There were other good plays, but those two catches overshadowed all other defensive work.

Score Early
Myers Bros. wasted little time in opening up its big guns. The host team scored twice in the first. Paul Stroud walked to open the game. An error by the catcher, who kicked Clark's bunt down the first base line, moved Stroud to third and allowed Clark to reach first safely. Stroud scored on a close play at the plate after Yates had filed out to the center fielder in short left center field. Harmon's booming double off the center field fence scored Clark, but Fernandez went down swinging to end the frame.

Macomb got one run back in the second. With one out, Herbert singled to left field. He moved to third on Knowles' single and scored on an infield out.

Move Out In Front
The visitors moved ahead in the fifth. Fulkus opened with a single through the pitcher's box to center field. Horn was hit on the left arm by a pitched ball. Wally Reed was safe at first on a fielder's choice, in which Horn was forced at second. An error by the Myers Bros. third baseman allowed Fulkus to count and moved Reed to second. After the second out, Jack Kraushaar singled. Reed scored, but McNay was caught at third to end the frame.

The last two Macomb runs came on doubles by Reed and Hayes and Herbert's single.

CHICAGO LIVESTOCK MARKET REPORT

Chicago, Aug. 17.—(P)—Livestock prices were mostly steady today. Some hogs were 25 cents lower and some bulls weak, however.

A load of high-choice hogs reached $30.75 but the practical top price was $30.50 sparingly paid, and most good and choice butchers sold from $28.50 to $30.25. Heavier above 300 pounds were in scanty supply. Sows fetched $23.00 to $28.50.

Choice fed steers topped at $41.25 and heifers at $39.00. Other steers ranged downward to $34.00 for good grades. Bulls topped at $24.50 and vealers at $32.00.

Washington State spring lambs and native springers brought $28.00 for good and choice. Choice ewes topped at $12.50 in the slaughter variety. Breeding ewes grading good and choice and mixed in age from two to four years sold at $13.00. Total receipts included 10,000 hogs, 5,700 cattle, 600 calves, and 3,500 sheep.

New York Stock Market

New York, Aug. 17.—(P)—The stock market made its best showing in around two weeks today.

Gains running from fractions to 2 points or so were liberally scattered through the list.

Activity ran ahead of some recent slow sessions but was still nothing to shout about. Turnover for the full day was at the rate of about 700,000 shares, which would compare with the four-year low of 460,000 touched yesterday.

Brokerage quarters had a simple explanation for the rally. The market, they claim, has reached a solid out condition. The low tempo of trading is a strong indication, in this view, that selling of any importance has run its course. The market, therefore, is in a position to respond easily to any light demand.

Higher were U. S. Steel, Youngstown Sheet, General Motors, Chrysler, Goodrich, Montgomery Ward, General Electric, Illinois Central and Nickel Plate.

Some quarters in Wall Street noted more of a tendency for professional traders to get back in the market despite the absence of a decisive incentive. This change in the trend of thinking downtown was based in part on the theory that negotiations between east and west over Berlin had dragged on for weeks, still with no very tangible results.

At the same time, there was considerable talk in the financial district that the Berlin situation was approaching a climax.

Schmitz Hurls Cubs To 4-2 Win Over Cards

Chicago, Aug. 17.—(P)—Johnny Schmitz, willowy southpaw, mesmerized the St. Louis Cardinals once again here today with his assortment of curve balls as he hurled the Chicago Cubs to a 4-2 victory and a split of the two-game series.

Schmitz scattered five hits for his 13th victory against 10 losses. Only two tallies off him came via homers. Stan Musial hit his No. 30 to go into a tie for league leadership with Ralph Kiner, pending tonight's game, and Don Lang hammered out his third of the season.

George "Red" Munger, who had staged somewhat of a comeback recently, was kayoed in the fourth by the Cubs. Wildness was his undoing as much as anything else. He walked five and struck one batsman. Three of the walks and the hit batsman came in the second for a run without a hit.

Musial's homer tied it in the fourth and the Cubs came back with a pair in their half. Singles by Phil Cavarretta and Clarence Maderman and a walk to Bill Nicholson filled the bases with none out. Bob Scheffing's fly counted one and Schmitz singled after the other.

Gerry Staley stopped that uprising and was nicked for a run himself in the seventh. Lang had homered in the first half of the round and then the Cubs bounced back with one on singles by Emil Verban, "Peanuts" Lowrey and Cavarretta.

The Cubs retained an 8-6 edge over the Cardinals for the season with today's win.

A Shattered Dream

John B. Kelly Jr. of Philadelphia is carried away exhausted by Mickey McLaughlin, left, trainer, and his coach and father John B. Champ Tourney Makes Big Splash In Fight Business

New York, Aug. 17.—(P)—For an outfit that has promoted just one show, the Tournament of Champions is making a big splash in the boxing business.

Many figures close to the ways of that peculiar industry, believe the splash is going to drench the "seven angels" in red ink.

But the seven businessmen who back the T. of C. refuse to be perturbed. Since they moved into the cauliflower competition two months ago with their Rocky Graziano-Tony Zale middleweight title bout, they have gained control of the 160-pound crown and a good hold on the light heavyweight title.

Only yesterday they shoved a big foot in the door of the heavyweight division by signing Jersey Joe Walcott and Gus Lesnevich to fight on the Zale-Marcel Cerdan card in Jersey City Sept. 21.

And today they made another move to tighten their grip on the 175-pounders by resuming negotiations with England's Freddie Mills.

Mills, the light heavy king who took the crown from Lesnevich in London last month, was supposed to meet Gus again in the Jersey City show. He was forced to back out because of illness and take treatments.

Today Andy Niederreiter, who does the heavy end of the work for the "angels," said Ted Broadbent, manager of Mills, cabled him from London saying "Mills' treatments very satisfactory. Probably start training in October. Will know better in a few weeks."

Mills is contracted to give Lesnevich a return bout under the auspices of the Tournament of Champions. Niederreiter had cabled Broadbent asking him when Mills would be able to fulfill the agreement.

With Mills, Walcott and Lesnevich, the T. of C. has a hold on three of the four big boys rated as top contenders for Joe Louis' crown. Ezzard Charles of Cincinnati is the other.

Bitter Reprieve

By Drexel Drake Copyright, 1948, Charles H. Huff; Distributed by NEA SERVICE, INC.

IT took Bindle only a second to decide not to hold out against obvious knowledge. He was convinced Sterling had talked.

"Okay, Lieutenant," Bindle said.
"I was out here that night. But why should I mess in on a murder?"

"What time were you here?"
Talent asked.

"Eleven o'clock."
"A little late for a social call, wasn't it?"

"Sterling owed me 10 grand and he was giving me a runaround. I came out here to collect."

"Did you collect?"
"Not exactly. Not right away."
Bindle frowned, chewed his lips.
"I'll spill it all to you, Lieutenant,"
he said. "It can't help you much, now, but it can't hurt, with Sterling dead."

"Let's have it anyway," Talent encouraged.

"We was sitting here, having a couple drinks. Sterling had the news on the radio. He said he didn't want his wife to hear our voices. Sterling said he didn't have any dough, only what his wife gave him. I needed my 10 grand, told Sterling I had to have it. He said he'd go up and talk to his wife. So he went upstairs."

"And that was some time after 11 o'clock. What then?"
"I waited a long time... begin to think he took a powder. I went out in the hall. I figured maybe his wife wasn't upstairs at all, that he run out on me the back way.
I was just starting up the stairs
when I saw Sterling come sneaking out of a door, closing it so nobody would hear him. Then he came down."

"Then what, Harry?"
"Sterling threw his wife's diamond necklace down on this table.
He said I'd have to take it as security till he could get the dough."
"And you took the necklace?"
"Only for security. Like he said, it was take that or nothing."
"You took it only for security,"

but you never returned it, did you?"
Bindle scowled. "Sterling never came after it."

"Weren't you supposed to return it to Sterling inside that roll of newspapers?"
"What roll of newspapers?"
"The one you gave the young lady who delivered $10,000 to you at the Crosstown Hotel?"
"You ain't got nothing like that on me!" Bindle said hotly.

Talent motioned to the detective in the hall and Miss Wilson came in, timidly, pale.
"Do you see Mr. Davenport in here, Miss Wilson?" Talent asked.
Miss Wilson's startled eyes rested on Bindle. "He's Mr. Davenport," she said.

"The man who gave you a roll of newspapers for Mr. Sterling in exchange for the package you delivered to him?"
"That's right, Lieutenant."

Talent, on his feet, looked down at Bindle. "But you forgot to put the necklace in those newspapers, didn't you, Harry?" he said. "And you never thought of turning it over to this young lady when she was bringing you a package from Sterling every month during 1941, did you?"

Bindle scowled, made a move to get up, changed his mind.
"How much a month were you collecting from Sterling?"
"He was paying up. He was sending me two grand a month."
"Paying up for what?"
"For what he owed me. That first 10 grand he sent me was hot.
He was paying extra because I had to wait so long."

"You knew the first 10 grand was hot and still you hired Joe Steppo to pass out some of it at Belmont. Remember the Lily
Francie I mentioned to you this afternoon, Harry? Joe Steppo was her boy friend."

Bindle's eyes flashed poison at Talent. "You're trying to mess me up with something, Lieutenant, but you can't mess me up with what happened here," he said heatedly. "Now I will spill something. I'll show you just what kind of suckers Sterling made out of you cops."

"We'd be glad to hear it, Harry,"
Talent said.

"Okay. I went out of here before 12 o'clock. I knew the whole setup was screwy. I knew Sterling had pulled something up stairs. So I watched outside to see what Sterling would do. And I saw plenty. I saw him fix up that window, smash it, come out with a pair of shoes on his hands to make it look like footprints. I saw him knock that clock loose."

"You could see that from the driveway?"
"When he went back in, I stood on the running board of a car and watched. And you ate up his alibi because he moved the clock up to 1:30. It wasn't even 12:30 when he beat it away in a taxicab."

"You probably also noticed that he left the front door unlocked."
"I saw him change the lock, so he could get back in with the shoes on his hands."

"And that is how you were able to come back in here after he drove away, isn't it, Harry?"
"Who said I came back in here?"
"Your thumb print was the last one on the radio dial."

Bindle laughed derisively. "So you think that gives you something on me? I turned off the radio while Sterling was upstairs."

Talent had caught the significance of new voices in the hall.
He smiled benignly at Bindle.
"I'm glad you explained that,
Harry," he said. "Seems I was making a mistake about it. You've told me a lot to help me, and now you may be able to give me one more little bit of help. It's just possible you will recognize the woman about to come in here."

Bindle's scowl followed the direction indicated by Talent's nod.
At that moment, Janet Trapgood stepped in from the hall. She halted abruptly, Trapgood immediately behind her.

Fire Ruins 3,000 Bales Of Straw At Alexander

Three thousand bales of straw which were piled on a lot in Alexander recently by Ralph Buchanan were burned Tuesday evening in a blaze which it is believed was started by sparks from a passing locomotive.

Jacksonville firemen answered a call from the Morgan county town with a pumper and spent the greater part of the night battling the conflagration. Hindered in their firemen devoted much of their time to protecting neighboring buildings.

The straw pile, composed of both large and small bales, was on the property of John Wiegand of Alexander. The lot is located just north of the Wabash railroad and approximately two blocks east of the Alexander elevator.

The straw had been piled awaiting future loading for shipment elsewhere.

Firemen exhausted the water supply of two wells in the neighborhood, then transferred their pumper to a pond south of the railroad, laying the line of hose under the tracks. A dam had recently broken, making the pond less useful than in previous emergencies.

The alarm was received at the Jacksonville fire department at approximately 6:20 p. m. (D.S.T.) Assistant Chief Carl Litter and Fireman Harold McDougall and Harold Westrope proceeded to the scene. They were joined by Byron Campbell, who was injured Monday morning at the Wells and Dowling tavern fire. Campbell assisted in pumping operations.

Buchanan could not be reached early in the evening and it is not definitely known whether the loss was insured. He operates a baler in the Alexander community and it has not been determined whether he owned all or a portion of the straw, or whether it had been sold. Residents in the vicinity reported that the pile was begun about a month ago and that bales have been added daily.

At 8:05 p. m. firemen made another run to 849 Grove St. where wiring beneath the dashboard of a car belonging to Fennell Perry was on fire. The blaze was extinguished with only small damage resulting.

H. Y. Potter & Son of Jacksonville took a third in the junior board showing and eighth place in senior board division. Duroc breeders of the Middle West entered 128 animals in the latter class.

Area's Hog Men Win
Clarence J. Dawdy of Roodhouse was a prominent figure in the Herford hog classification. Paul Anderson and C. O. Anderson & Sons of Jacksonville were consistent winners with their Poland China hogs; Herschel W. Caruthers of Waverly, Carl L. and Walter C. Rieck of New Berlin scored with their Spotted Poland China hogs.

Herbert Landon, 16-year-old Jerseyville boy, won the grand championship with his Jersey cow. John Kibler, also of Jerseyville, took the reserve championship in the Holstein dairy division judging.

Gilman Robinson of the Nortonville 4-H club placed 11th with his Guernsey heifer Tuesday.

Horse Show A Sellout
The colorful horse show continued to show to overflow crowds. All tickets have been sold, but large numbers of horse fans continue to get into the coliseum somehow, even though they have to stand through the three-hour-long show.

George and Sam Peak of Winchester won a red ribbon in the open roadster class and Mark Peak placed fourth with a single pony.

James R. Dunseth of Modesto, Macoupin farmer who lives just outside of Morgan county, was one of the leading exhibitors in the farm products class. James H. Handly and Mrs. Howard Potts of Waverly also broke into the top premium list with their red and white popcorn.

Seven Waverly residents scored heavily in the textile show. Mrs. F. L. Caruthers won three firsts with her examples of fancy needlework. She was followed by Mrs. H. W. Caruthers, Mrs. T. L. Caruthers, Mrs. B. L. Hilyard, Mrs. Arnie A. Flynn, Mrs. Howard Pitts and E. C. Gibson.

Juanita Coultas of Rural Route 2, Jacksonville, took a red and a white ribbon with her pillow case and afternoon dress entries.

Amateur Artists Win
Three amateur Jacksonville artists won four firsts and two thirds place ribbons with their exhibits. George Wiseheart, 858 Routh street, took three consecutive blue ribbons with an oil painting, water color landscape and water color portrait.

Carroll D. Rexroat, 489 N. Church, captured first place with an architectural design and Norma Ann Myers, 767 S. Church street, won two third place ratings with an advertising design and an amateur oil painting of flowers.

Miss Opal Hayes of Franklin, a consistent winner of ribbons and trophies in the culinary department, won the canning championship. She received a silver pitcher, plus many cash awards.

Phyllis Reynolds of White Hall and Mary Sue Thibault of Greenfield were chosen to give the 4-H home economics demonstration, "Cookies for all Occasions."

Courteous, Helpful Pedestrian Wins $5

Tuesday's courteous driver contest was revised to include a courteous pedestrian. It is felt by the sponsors of the campaign that it is just as important to have courteous pedestrians as it is to have courteous drivers.

Tuesday's committee was composed of four women from the Business and Professional Women's Club. They were Miss Grace Fitch, Miss Martha Mason, Miss Marian Vinson, and Miss Ethel Swanson.

Many Jay-Walkers Seen
The committee members parked their car on the corner of the square and East State, where pedestrian traffic seemed to be the heaviest. Many people disqualify themselves by jay-walking, not looking for coming cars, and starting across the street only to change their minds and turn back. This is both confusing to the driver and dangerous for the pedestrian.

After several minutes the committee noticed Clarence Richardson, a blind man, was waiting for someone to help him across the street. Without hesitation, a man standing on the opposite side of the street came over, took Richardson's arm, and proceeded to lead him across the street.

Here 28 years
This man was William Fields of 904 Cox street. He is employed at several different places in Jacksonville, working at Heidinger's Drug store, Modern Cleaners and Spencer's Barber and Beauty Shop. Fields has lived in Jacksonville 28 years. He was born in Virginia and reared in Cleveland, Ohio. He owns his own home in Jacksonville and expects to live here the rest of his life.

When presented with the $5 award he thanked the committee for choosing him and said he could put the money to good use.

Iowa Police Recover Loot Here Stolen By Carnival Employee

Chief E. L. Immer and Sgt. Richman of the Cedar Falls, Iowa, police department paid a visit to Jacksonville Tuesday afternoon to pick up a portable typewriter and a bunch of lower-priced fountain pens which had been stolen from the Wallace Book store in that city on July 12, 1948.

Jack Bourland, 41-year-old former carnival concession operator, admitted the thefts. He was picked up by the local police on July 25 after six Jacksonville establishments had been entered on the two preceding nights. He is now in the county jail under $5,000 bond to await the action of the grand jury which convenes next month.

Denies Theft Of Pens
Bourland admitted breaking into the Cedar Falls book store, but denied the theft of four Shaeffer pen and pencil sets. These, he said, he placed on the floor of the store and neglected to take with him.

Chief Immer said two juke boxes in an ice cream parlor and in a restaurant, had received the same treatment. Bourland admits giving to installations here. The coin boxes were raised only after they had been badly damaged.

Admits Burglary
After a talk with Chief Immer and Chief Frank Kiloran, Bourland signed a statement admitting the Cedar Falls burglary.

Out of the loot recovered by local police the prisoner authorized Immer to receive the typewriter, seven boxes of pen points, one stapling machine, eight Atomic pens, 11 Faber pens, a dozen Scripto pencils, 43 FineLine pens, eight FineLine pencils, three RitePoint pencils and one zipper leather notebook.

The Iowa bookstore had reported the loss of twelve such notebooks, but Bourland insisted he had taken only two of them. He sold one, he declared.

The pens were valued at $150 each; the pencils at $1 each.
